

ATTACKS DOUBLE MORAL STANDARD

Gypsy Smith, Jr., Asks to Have Transgression of Sexes Seen in Same Light.

WARNS OF DEVIL'S BARB

If a Dog, He Says, He Wouldn't Wag His Tail At Some Christians.

Gypsy Smith, Jr., in his sermon last night at the tabernacle, bitterly attacked the double standard of morality for men and women, and pleaded with Christians to keep from being "caught" by the cleverly baited hooks of the devil.

His sermon on "Life's Shipwreck" was expected to be followed by an appeal for "trail bitters," but for some reason the evangelist did not call for members of his congregation to "hit the clinder path," although he asked them to show by raising hands whether or not they felt the need of prayer. Many hands showed when he made this appeal.

Attacks Atheists.
The young evangelist was especially vitriolic in his sermon when he criticized the practical, matter-of-fact men who question the existence of a Supreme Being.
"You poor fools," he said, "who try to reason with your little two-by-four minds the 'reasoning' of God. Where did you come from? Why are you here? Where are you going? Try to answer those questions, and see what you know."
He launched his full dramatic force against the ensnaring ways of the devil, and pictured the horrible ending of what the devil has painted as beautiful in the beginning.

Keep End in Mind.
"Listen, old Washington, listen. Simply because that's not the devil's way. If those girls who are peddling their souls on the streets of Washington tonight could have seen the end when they first took that wrong step downward, would they have done it? No," thundered Mr. Smith, "all the devils in hell would not have made him do it."
Rosette Beginning.
"Listen! There's never a blur or a blemish, there's never a spot or a smudge on the devil's picture. There's never a smudge or a cloud painted on the devil's picture for the girl who enters motherhood by the wrong door. You big fools! Oh, you big fools! You will play and fool with the powers that will ruin you. SIN will spell every misery, every sorrow in Washington tonight. The devil would tear a babe from its mother's breast and leave it damned and dying, for that's his business."
"Listen! Under every bait the devil offers you, there's the barb. 'Caught' is the most homely word in the English language. It expresses so much."

Society's Injustice.
"I have seen a pure, sweet young girl dancing in the arms of some moral leper until she is caught. And then society says 'segregate her' and at the same time takes back into its arms the devil who ruined her and fetes him, and wines him and dines him."
"Oh, God! The hell of this damned double standard in the United States."
"Oh, listen, listen. If every girl demanded of the man what he demands of her in the way of moral purity, there would be a cleaner and better manhood in the country."
The evangelist last night seemed to become carried away at points by his own words, and rushed from one side to the other of the rostrum, shaking his fist into the faces of his congregation, and hammering the pulpit with all his might as he drove home a point.

He gave a picturesque recital of the Titanic's sinking, comparing the ill-fated vessel to the greatest of the seas, who lured her victims to a watery grave.
"Listen!" he said, "there is one lesson every survivor of that vessel will tell you today. It is this: 'Watch, watch, for ye know not when the Son of God comes.'"

Not a "Tabernacle."
Gypsy Smith made an appeal for greater contributions from the audience last night, stating that up to this time the average amount taken in each night has not averaged 6 cents a person. "Some people seem to think this is a tabernacle," he caustically remarked; "it's not, though. It's a tabernacle."
Afternoon services will be resumed this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. There will be the children's service Saturday afternoon, conducted by Mr. Coje, the choir leader. It was announced.
"Sine, their beginning and ending," was the subject of the sermon preached last night by Gypsy Smith, Jr.

The voyage of Paul to Rome from the twenty-seventh chapter of Acts, was taken as the subject.
Mr. Smith launched into his sermon by saying: "Many of us today make the mistake of embarking upon the sea of life without knowing where the sandbars are, and where the hidden reefs lie, and where the cross currents swirl the greatest. We want our own way. We think the world owes us a living; but it only owes us a chance to make a living."

Master of Our Will.
"You and I have been created so that we are masters of our will. All we have to do, is to give away to our influences. We may be wrong by giving the evil influences away and we may be right by giving the good influences away. God will let you have your own way."
"If I could give you a life-sized photograph of yourself at sixty when the devil has wrought in you, all the devils in hell could not tempt you to do wrong. You may prosper, in material things, but you will be a pauper spiritually."

"There are three questions I want every person in here to ask of himself, namely: Where did I come from? 'Why am I here?' and 'Where am I going to?' You may say that six feet of earth and a coffin are the end of this life, but if God can turn a grub worm into a beautiful butterfly, then He has something better than this life in store for man."

Mean of Life Easy.
"It is easy to do foul, to make a mess of this life. The trouble with sin is that it doesn't take the lowest of the earth. It takes the brightest; sin is no respecter of persons. I offer to you Jesus Christ to take the helm of your life. He knows the sandbars. He knows the currents. He knows where the hidden wrecks lie and he will guide you safely into the port."

Take Three Types.
The preacher then returned to his story with the statement that he would take three characters of the story to represent three types of people in this world.
"First he stated 'there is Paul, the man of God, warning and pleading for the unrepentant to accept Christ. It won't hurt my standing if these meetings in Washington are a failure. I am standing here because God hates sin and has sent me to preach the gospel. There has never been a day in your life when you haven't heard the voice of Christ."

Most Accept Some Things.
"For the man of the world, the man of the material things, we take the captain of the ship. He was one of those kind who didn't believe unless he could touch, taste, see, and handle. If you are that kind, if you don't believe until you understand and if you don't accept until you know the why and wherefore, turn out the lights in this building, for you don't know the first thing about them. Nobody knows how God kissed the mud puddle and threw it into the clouds; nobody knows how the light came through the gates of the morning. Do not put your two by four mind against that of God's and be a confounded fool. There are some things we cannot understand but must accept."

Modern Parable.
The preacher then told a story of a lad who was induced to join the army by flaring pictures and attractive uniforms of the army officers. Enlisting he was given a pair of overalls, a spade and told to dig a trench. He had not bargained for the trench digging when he joined the army.
"That," said the preacher, "is the same principle the devil works. The devil does not show the ends of sin, he shows the beginning. There is not a girl in the red light district who, if she had been shown herself as she now is, when she was about to take the false step, would be there tonight. The story says, 'The mild south wind blew. That is the mild south wind of temptation, but the story says that the tempest came upon them and they were caught. 'Caught' is the most tragic word in the language. 'Caught' gives a picture of a young man creeping up to the bar for the sake of a crowd. It shows a young girl dancing in the arms of a moral leper, and then having an unholy, thought enter her head."

Running Into Sin.
"Letting her drive" is an expression used by sailors in speaking of turning the ship and running to the gale. "Letting her drive" is the way some of us are doing. We are running into sin.
"I offer you through the power of this book a title to mansions in the sky. You can be saved though your sins be as black as night."

TIGHTEN PASS SYSTEM
State, War, and Navy Building More Closely Guarded.
More strict rules, under the present pass system, will apply to the presence of newspaper men in the State, War and Navy building hereafter.

German citizens undoubtedly will be barred. Moreover, newspaper men to get permission must file an application showing that they are exclusively engaged in newspaper work, how long they have been in Washington, where they were born, and of what nation they are citizens.

Save Your Hair and Beautify It with Danderine

Spend 25 cents! Dandruff Disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glitters with beauty and is radiant with health, you cannot have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces fever, skinness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die, then the hair falls out fast.
If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggly or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.
We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually, why not now?—Adv't.

PAINTERS WILL URGE CAPITAL CLEAN-UP

Trade Association Members Plan to Open Wide Publicity Campaign.

HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Co-operative Advertising Suggested to Awaken City to Need of Spring Dress.

To stir up enthusiasm among Washingtonians for a bigger "paint-up" and "clean-up" week than has ever been held here before, the Master House Painters and Decorators met at the Ebbitt yesterday and formulated plans for carrying out the clean-up idea in April.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected by the membership as follows: W. F. Andrews, president; H. P. Amos, vice president; W. H. Taylor, secretary, and George Russell, treasurer. It was decided to send five delegates to New Haven next week to attend the convention of the International Association of House Painters and Decorators.

Wide Publicity Urged.
Speakers advocated greater publicity in the affairs of the association and criticized what they termed as too much secrecy in the past in the work of the painters.

"We form only a small part of the city's population," said A. H. McGahan, international secretary and treasurer of the painters, "and the time has come for advertising and publicity. Our meetings in the past have been in secret, but henceforth they ought to be thrown open and the public invited."

"Our slogan for 1917 ought to be 'Use More Paint.'"

Mr. McGahan called attention to the improvement made in Washington's appearance a year ago, when the clean-up campaign was carried out with success.

Advertising Plans Suggested.
Other speakers urged co-operation between the painters and the press. Co-operative advertising, it was pointed out, would put the public more in sympathy with the clean-up and paint-up campaign.

The date is tentatively agreed upon as not being later than Easter week. E. J. Murphy was appointed chairman of the assembly committee and will announce the date of the next meeting of the painters.

Announcement was made by Mr. McGahan of the advertising and publicity campaign to be begun this year from Philadelphia by E. T. Trigg, who has raised in the trade $500,000 for advertising for five years. One-fifth of this amount will be spent in advertising in 1917.

Preceded by Luncheon.
Twenty-eight members attended the meeting yesterday. Luncheon preceded the business session, which was called to order at 1 o'clock.

At a future meeting these problems

PEEL OFF CALLUSES WITH THE FINGERS

To painlessly and quickly remove any callus spots from the bottom of the feet apply a few drops of freestone directly upon the hardened skin and shortly it will peel right off without pain, soreness or bleeding.

This drug is an ether compound. It simply loosens the dead callused skin. It doesn't eat it away, but loosens it so it peels right off with the fingers.
A quarter ounce of this freestone costs little at any pharmacy, but is sufficient to remove every corn or callus from the feet. This is the only way to free the feet from corns and calluses without soreness, danger or infection.

After the corn or callus is lifted away the skin beneath and surrounding is found pink and healthy and not inflamed, or even irritated. This is a good thing to know—Adv't.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Musterole Gives Comfort

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on the temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister!

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

will be settled by the painters: Adequate advertising in press and pamphlet.

Community co-operation in the clean-up campaign. A knowledge by the public of the value of paint as a preserver of property.

Speakers expressed the belief that if the public is told convincingly of the benefits to be derived from the painting of old houses and garages, it will respond generously to the idea.

SENATE TO PASS ON SHIP SEIZURE PLAN

Bill to Be Introduced By Fletcher Indicates Preparedness Spirit.

Significant of the spirit in Congress that if war comes this nation must go at the business of preparedness in earnest and on a great scale, is the fact that Senator Fletcher will introduce a bill in the Senate to amend the Federal shipping law to authorize the shipping board in time of war or threatened war to commandeer all ships under construction in the United States for foreign owners.

The bill will also propose the same authority to commandeer all privately owned American ships.

Change Favored.
These sweeping changes were favored at a conference of Secretary McAdoo, William Denman, of the Shipping Board; Senators Fletcher, Simmons, and Randall and Chairman Alexander, of the House Merchant Marine Committee.

Secretary McAdoo and Mr. Denman said the international crisis demanded vigorous action to strengthen the board's powers.

Several hundred thousand tons of merchant bottoms are being constructed in this country for foreign owners.

Senator Penrose has come out in opposition to hurried measures for Government ownership to meet war conditions. He referred especially to the proposed commandeering of American shipyards. He urged reliance on co-operation of manufacturers.

He is believed to reflect the opposition of shipbuilding interests and other great industries in his State.

BURST UPON STAGE BY AN ACCIDENT

Gayety Star, Suddenly Called Upon to Substitute for Sister, Made a Hit.

Some of the notables of the stage are born to good luck, others accidentally fall in and not a few have it thrust upon them—and the latter is what you might say happened to Florence Bennett, leading the bill at the Gayety Theater this week, when she was in Buffalo five seasons ago.

Miss Bennett's sister, Margaret Bennett, was playing at a Buffalo theater and became ill one night just before she was to go on. Miss Bennett was asked by the management—largely because of the close resemblance of the sisters—to take her part.

Did she accept? Well, that is a fact of stage history, and today Miss Bennett has few rivals on the Columbia circuit of shows. Her versatile ability is clearly demonstrated by her vehicle this week, as the blonde favorite assumes many difficult roles with success, nay even with ecstacy!

"I was frightened at my sudden burst into stage life," Miss Bennett said today, "but on looking back at it I rather think I like the way I broke in. It was fine excitement for a quiet domestic life like mine. I love the stage. I believe it has a great future."

"It is a reformer and deserves praise along with the press and the pulpit for helping to make people enjoy life. And that is the main object—entertaining people."

Miss Bennett has relatives fighting for the allies. Her home is in Toronto and there she spends the summers. With her husband, Paul Cunningham, she has been drawing record crowds for the Columbia circuit of theaters for the last four years.

As the "woman of the street" Miss Bennett appears most advantageously. She likes this role because it makes people do some serious thinking. This feature is one of the most pronounced hits with Fred Irwin's Majestica, who are playing the Gayety this week.

OFFERS PLANT TO U. S.

President William A. Morgan, of the Buffalo Copper and Brass Rolling Mill, Buffalo, N. Y., the largest of its kind in the country, has offered President Wilson its entire works at the Government's own terms.

GIVES ADVICE ABOUT PURCHASE OF FURS

Women Start Styles By Demanding Those Most Scarce, Says Miss Zirkin.

That the women themselves, by demanding those furs which are most scarce, start the styles in fur, was the statement of Miss Ida E. Zirkin, speaking before the Home Economics Association in the Woodward & Lothrop auditorium yesterday afternoon.

Miss Zirkin explained the best course to pursue in buying furs and in taking care of them. She showed the difference between natural seal and the Hudson seal, or muskrat. Only about one woman in a hundred is able, she said, to differentiate between the natural seal and the imitation. The muskrat, she said, is dyed and plucked until it resembles the more expensive seal, which is much finer and more lasting than the imitation.

Skunk Most Enduring.
Miss Zirkin advised the women to go to a reliable retailer for their furs.

The skunk, said Miss Zirkin, probably is the most enduring fur worn in the United States. While it is not as soft and glossy as fox or lynx, it is less expensive and will give better service.

There is a great demand for mole skins, Miss Zirkin explained, because they are so small and hard to get. Only the Scotch moles are used, those in the United States not being of sufficient strength for fur making.

Chinchilla Much Imitated.

The chinchilla, a South American fur, is much imitated in the United States, due to its excessive cost. European squirrel skins are dyed to resemble the chinchilla, but are not as durable or pretty.

The most expensive furs, Miss Zirkin said, are the Russian sable, silver fox, Russian ermine and the American seal.

Miss Zirkin displayed a small beaver and seal muff which, she said, had belonged to Mrs. Abraham Lincoln during the time she occupied the White House.

ORDERS OFFICER'S REPRIMAND

President Wilson yesterday ordered reprimanding of First Lieut. McLeod Stinnett, Fourth Texas Infantry, for firing his pistol toward a detachment of enlisted men at drill. Lieutenant Stinnett was found guilty by a court-martial, and was sentenced to dismissal, but the President commuted the sentence to a reprimand to be administered by the Secretary of War.

Grandpa Didn't Need Cascarets For the Bowels

Two hours a day sawing wood will keep liver and bowels right.

You who take exercise in an easy chair must take "Cascarets."

Enjoy life—feel busy! Don't stay sick, bilious, headachy, constipated. Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your breath offensive, stomach sour, and your body full of cold. Why don't you get a 10 or 25-cent box of Cascarets at the drug store and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced? Cascarets work while you sleep. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Children need this candy cathartic, too. Adv't.

AN All-Weather Tread on a Goodyear Tire is the best guard against winter tire troubles man has been able to devise. It is double-thick and densely tough, studded with big, rugged, sharp-edged blocks—an effective barrier to most punctures, and a vigilant resistant to skidding. It is as sure-footed in snow as a malamute, and as serviceable as your car itself.

Every Goodyear Tire ought to be at work outside a Goodyear Tube. No other tube so safely insures the constant air pressure needed to cushion strain and shock. No other tube is so protected in the making against leak, seep or creep.

Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Tubes both can be had from Goodyear Service Station Dealers. Probably there is one in your neighborhood. He is worth searching out and doing business with. For he is there not only to sell you tires, but to help them deliver you their last mile of service (more than you're used to from your present tires) after he has sold them.
